DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 03/21/2006 has been entered.
2. Claim 1 is amended, wherein the preamble limitation "hard surface" is replaced by the term "stainless steel" and wherein the additional steps of "removing soil from the hard surface; and rinsing the hard surface" are added.
3. Claims 1-13 are currently pending and examined on the merits.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

4. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.
5. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. Claim 1 recites the limitation "the hard surface". There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

6. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

7. Claims 1-8, 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Oda et al (U.S. 3,709,824).

Oda teaches a method of polishing a stainless steel surface by contacting the surface with a composition comprising polypropylene glycol for a certain time, thus removing any soil from the surface, and rinsing the stainless steel surface. Upon treatment the stainless surface gains a smooth metallic luster and a near-mirror finish (paragraph, bridging col.1 and 2; col. 2, lines 25-28; paragraph bridging col.2 and 3), which reads on “imparting gloss to stainless steel”, as instantly claimed. With regard to claim 8, Oda teaches balancing the volume of concentrated solutions with water. Therefore, all the limitations of the instant claims are met by Oda.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

8. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Art Unit: 1746

9. The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

10. Claims 9, 11-13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Oda et al (U.S. 3,709,824).

With regard to claims 9 and 11, Oda does not specifically indicate the composition with glycol content as instantly claimed. However, Oda teaches that glycol increase the viscosity of the aqueous solution and inhibits a diffusion of metal ions, which are corroded by the aqueous solution and make the corrosion is more uniform. Therefore, one skilled in the art, motivated by Oda would have found obvious to adjust the content of glycol in order to optimize the treatment of a particular stainless steel surface utilizing the method of Oda.

Conclusion

11. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. JP56-42673 teaches imparting gloss to a stainless steel surface by dipping the surface into a polishing solution comprising polyethylene glycol, followed by rinsing and drying the stainless steel surface.
